

Sesame Street Season 39

Parody Descriptions

Pre-School Musical - a parody of the film, High School Musical.

Kids sing about all the fun things to play and learn about in pre-school.

30 Rocks - a parody of the television series, 30 Rock.

A Muppet Liz Lemon, with a striking resemblance to Tina Fey, is asked by her boss, Jack, to make sure 30 rocks have arrived for an upcoming show. She counts rocks to check that there are 30 all together.

Plain White T's - a parody of the musical rock band, Plain White T's and their song "Hey There Delilah."

A group of letter T's sings about the letter, the letter sound, and words that begin with the letter 'T.'

Dirtiest Jobs with Mike Rowe - a parody of television series, Dirty Jobs with Mike Rowe.

Mike Rowe visits Oscar who has him do the dirtiest jobs on Sesame Street such as counting stinky cheese and sorting trash.

Are You Smarter Than an Egg Layer? - a parody of television game show Are You Smarter Than a Fifth Grader?

A game show where the contestant enlists the help of some chickens to count eggs.

Feist 1234 - a parody of the song "1, 2, 3, 4," by musical artist, Feist.

Feist counts to 4 all around Sesame Street.